MAYORALTY CONTEST OFFICIALLY SETTLED

Judge Sampson of Court of Appeals, Says Nomination Vacant After Evans' Death

All controversy over the nomination for Mayor of Richmond was finally and officially settled by Judge Flen D. Sampson, of the Court of Appeals, this week when he upheld the ruling of Circuit Judge W. R. Shackelford that the nomination was void and vacant following the death of Mayor L. P. Evans, who had won the nomination at the August primary.

Judge Sampson notified attorneys in the case Thursday morning that he had overruled motion by Attorneys R. C. Oldham and A. R. Burnham for a mandatory injunction requiring the issuance of a certificate of nomination to Jeff Mitchell and requiring the county clerk to place his name on the ballot as the democratic nominee.

It was alleged by attorneys for Mitchell that inasmuch as Mr. Evans did not file his expense account, even though he had won the nomination, he was not entitled to same and inasmuch as Mr. Mitchell ran second he was entitled to the nomination. A mandamus was sought to compel the County Board of Election Commissioners to issue a certificate of nomination to Mr. Mitchell and to require the county clerk to place Mitchell's name on the ballot.

Of course the ordinance passed by the City Council at its last meeting, changing the method of selecting the Mayor, made everything null and void as far as selection of the next Mayor was concerned, but the decision of Judge Sampson of the Court of Appeals, sets at rest any claim that Mr. Mitchell or anyone else might have made to the nomination.

Attorneys J. J. Greenleaf and G. Murray Smith argued the case before Judge Sampson at Barbourville opposing the motion for mandatory injunction.

SOUTHERN ROADS ASK MILITARY PROTECTION

(By Associated Press)

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 8.—Military protection for employees and property of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway, will be asked of Governor Hardwick as a result of numerous cases of dynamiting the road's freight trains, it is stated today by the receiver of the road. The statement was made after a wreck of a freight train in the outskirts of Atlanta last night in which an engineer was killed and several negro train men injured. Dynamiting and other acts of lawlessness followed a strike on the road which began last spring. Later the railroad was thrown into the hands of a receiver.

THREE RAILROADS GO INTO CLAY CO. SOON

Preliminary surveys have been completed by the Louisville and Nashville railroad on a proposed extension from Beattyville, Lee county, across sections of Lee county and through Clay and Bell counties to Loyal, Harlan county. Two engineering and surveying crews have been working in both direction and met this week on Red Bird Creek, Clay county.

If the construction of this route is held feasible, work will begin at once, it is understood, and will open for development the vast coal and timber holdings of the Peabody Syndicate in Clay, Leslie and other southeastern Kentucky counties, as well as furnishing a new northern outlet for the extension coal fields of Harlan county, now being developed by the United States Coal and Coke Company, Wisconsin Steel Company and others.

Should the Beattyville-Loyal route not be adopted it is said that other routes are being considered by the L. & N., while it is known that the Southern and B. & O. have been considering building into the coal fields of Clay and border counties. It is regarded as certain that one of these systems will penetrate that section within the next year or so.

The Peabody interests, regarded as the biggest coal operators of the country, have invested several million dollars in the Clay-Leslie coal fields, while numerous smaller concerns hold big acreages. This is the remaining big coal field of Kentucky untapped by railroads.

TO ASK FOR NEW BIDS ON LEXINGTON PIKE

Re-Letting of Paving Contract to Be Held By Joe S. Boggs on September 28

New bids will be asked by State Road Engineer Joe S. Boggs for the paving of seven miles of the Lexington pike out of Richmond by government and state aid funds.

George Miller, of Lebanon, Ind., who secured the contract at the first letting was unable to make satisfactory bond for $243,000, the amount at which he received the contract. Mr. Boggs at first planned to accept the next highest bid but he writes that legal technicalities will prevent this, so that new bids will be called for September 28th.

Miller, who loses the contract, had planned to use concrete for the paving; the next best bid was to use Kentucky rock asphalt. With all bids declared off it is problematical now just what material will be used by the man who is the successful bidder on September 28. In a letter to County Judge W. K. Price, State Engineer Boggs tells of the matter as follows:

Frankfort, Sept. 6, 1921. Judge W. K. Price, County Judge Madison County, Richmond, Ky.

Dear Judge:—This will advise you that Mr. George T. Miller, of Lebanon, Ind., who at our letting on the 23rd ultimo, was low bidder in Madison county on reinforced concrete in the approximate amount of $243,000, has failed to qualify, and on account of certain legal complications that have arisen in regard to the acceptance of the next low bid on Kentucky rock asphalt, this office has today deemed it best to throw out all bids and readvertise this work for letting on September 28.

I would thank you therefore to advise your citizens to this effect, especially by giving this news to the local press.

Very truly yours,
JOE S. BOGGS,
State Highway Engineer.

The State Road Department has adopted the United States Treasury rule of accepting bond only within 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of the surety company.

Miller's bid for reinforced concrete was $243,000, which was $50,000 under the estimate of the department and $15,000 less than the next lowest bid. The Large Construction Company of Louisville, bid rock asphalt for $253,000 and Metzel & O'Hearn, Covington, bid concrete for $258,000.

On September 28 bids will be taken on approximately $2,000,000 worth of road construction to be started next spring. It will include 27.7 miles on the Ohio river road, 18 miles on the Mayo Trail, and ten miles on the Pikeville-Williamson road, a mile and a quarter of paving in Stearns, some state-aid work in Bracken and state maintenance work. It includes 18 miles in Lawrence county, from Louisa to the Boyd line, 12.7 miles in Breckinridge county from Hardinsburg to the Hancock line, 7 miles in Hancock from the Breckinridge line to Hawesville, and 8.9 miles in Union county from Morganfield, to the Henderson line.

Montgomery Over The Top

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 8.—Montgomery county has gone over the top in the campaign for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing Association. A report to Secretary Walter E. Patterson, announced that workers had not stopped at 75 per cent, but would seek to obtain 95 per cent for the pool.

FAMOUS FOX HUNTER VISITING IN MADISON

John A. Branham, of Chicago, head of perhaps the biggest newspaper publishers' representatives for advertising firm in the world, is in town the guest of J. W. Maupin and other local fox hunters. Col. Branham is a famous fox hunter himself. He came up from his plantation at Gallatin, Tenn., where there is often some noble sport and has been spending several days with Bob Walker and Woods Walker, near Paint Lick. Much of the time these congenial spirits, with Sam Woodridge, of Woodford county, and others, have been chasing reynard with the best hounds in the world. Col. Branham said he would not have felt natural to have gone fox hunting in Kentucky without visiting Madison county, the headquarters of the fox hunting world. He is receiving a cordial welcome on all sides from hosts of fox hunters and their friends.

FIRST SOUTHERN AUTO GOES THRO AT 11:45

The first member of the motorcade from the South that is to attend the Dixie Highway meeting in Cincinnati, passed through Richmond about 11:45 going like a limited express. Local citizens have been on the look-out for the first car all morning and were rewarded for their waiting at 11:45. The main body of the motorcade is expected to pass through between 4 and 5 o'clock but several members of the motorcade are going on ahead. Several are trying this plan and several have stopped and paid their respects to old friends in Richmond. A few more autos are joining the string at every town and there are a large number in line already.

FEDERAL AID FOR TOBACCO SEEMS SURE

Washington, Sept. 8.—That the amendatory legislation to the War Finance Corporation Act, known as the Agricultural Credits Bill, approved by President Warren G. Harding August 24, contains authority for that agency to give final assistance in the domestic sale of agricultural products as well as in the exporting, was arrested by the announcement of the corporation today that it has agreed to make an advance of $1,200,000 to a cotton growers' association in Arizona for the purpose of financing the domestic sale of cotton.

The announcement will be of interest to Kentucky tobacco growers as it indicates that the War Finance Corporation will be able to assist in financing the marketing of burley tobacco, as well as of the dark types grown in western Kentucky, for export. Representatives of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association, it is understood, will confer on this subject with officials of the corporation here.

LIGHTNING STROKE PROVES FATAL

To Young Duncan, While Working In Field—Searchers Find Body Wednesday Night

Coroner E. H. Muney was hurriedly called at 9 o'clock Wednesday night to the eastern part of the city to hold an inquest over the body of Perry G. Duncan, who was struck by lightning Monday afternoon while working in the tobacco field of Mr. Ed Carson.

Young Duncan was seen by his father and brother working about middle ways of the field just after dinner Monday, and felt no concern when he failed to come home that night, as he frequently goes to his brother's home to spend the night, and does his own "baching" near the Carson place.

He was not seen Tuesday at work, and when he failed to show up Wednesday, his father became alarmed, and called his older son to find if Perry had become ill, and was at their home.

He was told that he had not been at their home during the week, whereupon a search party was formed and as they neared the middle of the field where he was last seen, the body was discovered, about eight o'clock Wednesday night.

His clothes were scattered for twenty feet around, and his face had turned black from the rains and scorching sun Tuesday and Wednesday. He had been lying in the field for at least fifty-four hours and from all appearances, was struck near the top of the head, the lightning running down through his body, tearing his shoes from his feet.

Duncan was a splendid worker, and was popular with his acquaintances. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duncan, and besides his parents is survived by several brothers and sisters.

A short service will be held over his body which will be interred in the Richmond cemetery Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

WILL SOON HAVE FULL DRY STAFF

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 8.—The Kentucky prohibition enforcement force is expected to be filled within the next two or three weeks and then State Director Sam Collins can outline his work fully. Ever since he took office July 1, Mr. Collins has worked with a short force and for a time was able to do little more than police neighborhoods about the home towns of the enforcement agents.

When the staff of the director is filled he will have thirty men to do work. It has not yet been determined whether or not the men will work in squads out of the headquarters here or whether they will remain in territories assigned to them. Should they remain in their home stations they will always be subject to a call for mass raids, however.

As soon as the enforcement force is completed, according to officials it is expected that a drive will be started on moonshiners in localities said to be particularly infested with illicit stills.

DESPERATE CONVICT IN DARING ESCAPE

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 7.—Roy Gardner, train bandit, who escaped Monday from the Federal prison at McNeil Island, near here, during a break in which one prisoner was killed, apparently has succeeded in reaching the mainland, one mile away, prison guards and others declared today when their search of the island had failed to reveal the missing man.

This was Gardner's fourth break for liberty, each time under sensational circumstances.

He escaped during the progress of a base ball game in the prison grounds. Everett Impyn, former Camp Lewis soldier, serving a life sentence for a statutory offense, was shot and killed by guards as fled with Gardner. Lawardus Bogart, another prisoner, was recaptured after he had been seriously wounded by rifle fire. Bogart was sentenced with Impyn from Camp Lewis.

During a tense moment in the base ball game Gardner, Impyn, and Bogart made for the prison fence. Gardner succeeded in cutting the wire with a pair of cutters and passed through, but his companions were shot down.

Gaining the outside of the enclosure, Gardner stampeded a herd of cattle and using the animals as a barrier from the guards reached the woods which skirt the island. There all trace of him was lost. The guards set fire to the woods in an attempt to drive him out.

His exploit occurred in the presence of Heber H. Votaw, superintendent of Federal Prisons, a brother-in-law of President Harding. Votaw arrived Monday morning at McNeil Island on an inspection tour.

Gardner is 34 years old. He was arrested at San Diego, Calif., in 1920 and confessed to the robbery of a mail truck, when $87,000 was stolen. He escaped from the San Diego jail, was recaptured and again escaped, this time near Portland, en route to serve his sentence at McNeil Island.

On May 19, 1921, the Pacific Limited of the Southern Pacific Railway was held up at New Castle, Calif., and securities worth $175,000 taken. Gardner was captured at Roseville, Calif., a few days later. He confessed to this robbery upon urgency of his wife, who resides at Napa, Calif., with their children.

While on his way to prison he shackled his guard and escaped. This time he was captured at Centralia, Wash., and finally landed behind the bars, only to make his fourth spectacular break for freedom.

Taking Schools "Out of Politics"

Indiana voters by an overwhelming majority defeated the proposed constitutional amendment which would have taken election of their State School Superintendent from election by the people and given the governor power of appointment. Wonder if this is a forecast of what the people of Kentucky are going to do to George Colvin's pet scheme in this state.

Of course Richmond and Madison county would feel perfectly content with anyone our distinguished townsman, Miss Belle Bennett might name for State School Superintendent. Gov. Morrow honored himself and the state by placing her on the educational commission he will name. If the constitutional amendment carries and if the legislature gives him the power to appoint such a commission.

However, friends of Miss Bennett could hardly wish for her such an appointment if Gov. Morrow's educational commission should it be destined to have the same sort of troubles that Gov. Morrow's prison commissioners have been experiencing under their "bi-partisan, non-political" methods of control, with convicts running wild and the people thoroughly disgusted with it all.

It was argued that the appointment of the county school superintendents would take them out of politics. Has it done so?

It was argued that prohibition would prohibit. Does it? Supt. George Colvin leads the battle for the amendments spending the taxpayers' money with his propaganda, thinly disguised under the title of "Better School Week," etc.

Lilburn Phelps has shown how Colvin garbled the republican state platform on the subject of amendments.

Colvin preaches "out of politics." Wonder how many democrats Colvin retained in his office as State Superintendent of Public Instruction after he was elected on the republican ticket?

It is well known here that not until Colvin became State Superintendent was politics ever injected into the management of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School. Then it became necessary to kick out a democratic treasurer and put a republican in his place—and yet Colvin preaches "taking the schools out of politics." It is to laugh.

The Thin Gray Line

Announcement from Savannah Georgia, that if the Confederate States' Veterans hold a reunion in 1923 in that city, it will be the last gathering of the men, now dwindled to a "thin gray line," who fought with Lee and Jackson and Longstreet. The "thin gray line" is seen in public somewhere each year, but the relative numerical weakness of the men who wore the gray is against their chance to imitate in public gatherings. There will be no reunion this year, which seems to be interpreted as meaning that if the gray old veterans are brought together again it will be for the last time. The men who wore the gray in that bitter strife which drenched the South with blood and filled the hearts of the people with bitterness, are historic figures, with the men who wore the blue. The active generation knows of them mainly through the reading of history. The thin little line which today is all that is left of the gallant hosts that went into battle behind Lee and "Old Jack" give the world a perfect picture of the strength of human character urged by motives that were high. Men never fought more bravely with more desperation, with less selfishness, than the veterans of Lee and Jackson and Longstreet. Had they thought more of themselves and less of the impulses that urged them forward, that gallant gray army never could have lasted as a fighting force for four discouraged years. It seems a pity that they should not continue their reunions so long as there are two bent old men to represent the thousands who are gone. And how heroic the last warrior would be to the people of Dixie.—Owensboro Messenger.

An upward jolt experienced by an aviator, as if running over an obstacle, is described as a "bump," and air containing such irregularities, due chiefly to rising currents, is said to be "bumpy."

John Harrison, the inventor of the chronometer, received a reward of twenty thousand pounds from the British Government for his invention.

A British college has recently completed an industrial chemical laboratory in which medium scale manufacturing operations will be conducted not in the usual glass apparatus of the laboratory, but in metal apparatus such as is used in practical plants.

Following the dance the pinkish shrimp meat was shoveled through great screens, the brittle shell fragments falling through, while the piles of dried flesh were packed in barrels.

The shrimp industry in Louisiana has grown to greater proportions than is generally known. During the season of 1920, 20,716 persons were supported by the industry, more than one million dollars were invested in shrimp fleets, and the catch was listed by government officials at 28,950,000 pounds.

"SHRIMP DANCE" NOW A THING OF THE PAST

(By Associated Press)

New Orleans, Sept. 7.—Due to the inroads of modern machinery the "shrimp dance," one of the picturesque bits of routine that for years has marked the work on the shrimp drying platforms along the Louisiana south coast, this year goes into the lumber-room of memories, to join other quaint customs of bygone years.

Machinery hereafter will chuck the sun dried shrimps.

To the tourists who have ventured down into the wilderness of lowlying marshes, where the shrimp platform gather in the gorges of the trawlers, the "shrimp dance" has ever been a colorful memory.

Boiled in salt water in great copper vats, dried in the sunshine to rubbery resiliency, the shrimp have been swept up into huge circles in the past years. Then, while guitar or banjo or accordion wailed and plunked a dancing strain in a weird minor key, the husky platform workers, hands on hips, have shuffled scufflingly over the circular piles of shrimp. Beneath their tread the brittle shells cracked into fragments.

Following the dance the pinkish shrimp meat was shoveled through great screens, the brittle shell fragments falling through, while the piles of dried flesh were packed in barrels.

The shrimp industry in Louisiana has grown to greater proportions than is generally known. During the season of 1920, 20,716 persons were supported by the Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered for six years with pain every month, had vomiting spells the first two days, and was unfit to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. You may publish these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LOUISE STOLL, 609 W. York St., Phila., Pa.

It is not natural for women to suffer as did Mrs. Stoll, and in nine cases out of ten it is caused by some displacement or derangement of the system which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes, because it acts as a natural restorative.

Every woman who is subject to cramps, headaches, nervous spells, backache or those dreadful bearing-down pains should profit by Mrs. Stoll's experience and give Lydia E. $100. A Day For A Good WHEAT DRILL

One hundred silver dollars a day would be a low rent to pay for a good grain drill if the one you now use does imperfect work. Seed must be planted right before a bumper crop can be expected.

Seed that is planted too shallow has no better chance to produce a maximum yield than seed planted too deep. Nor can you expect top profits when your drill cracks a part of the seed, makes uneven delivery, or fails to cover the seeds properly. Good drilling and good crops go hand in hand.

This year make sure that the seed go in right by using a good drill, one that has proven itself worthy of your confidence. Users of Hoosier grain drills will tell you that their even stands, better yields, and more profit are largely due to the use of good drills.

Mother of 8, Burglar, Undergoes Operation To Cure Criminality

New York, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Fannie Liebowitz, mother of eight children and convicted burglar, today was sent to a hospital in lieu of a year's prison sentence in the belief that further treatment with thyroid secretions from sheep might cure her of criminal tendencies. She has been under treatment for three months, by order of County Judge Bayes. A physician reported to the court that she had improved greatly, both in health and mind, but he was unable to determine, at present, whether the injections had destroyed her criminal tendencies. If further treatment proves ineffective, she must go to prison.

HOPE HAMPTON AND JACK McDONALD IN A SCENE FROM MAURICE TOURNEUR'S PRODUCTION "THE BAIT"
A Paramount Picture

Hope Hampton, the pretty actress, who is at the local theatres Thursday, in Maurice Tourneur's "The Bait," first came into prominence through a joke played on her by a girl friend. Miss Hampton is a product of the plains of southern Texas. Born near Dallas, she was educated at the fashionable Sophie Newcomb school in New Orleans. While there a beauty contest was conducted by a New Orleans paper. For a lark, a picture of Miss Hampton was purloined by one of her school chums and sent to the contest. It won first prize and not only that, it drew the attention of several motion picture producers to the Texas beauty, and her debut on the screen followed. "The Bait" is a thrilling mystery-romance that will please you

IF ALL BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISED—

What an awful confusion would be heaped upon the publishing business!

Because the vast majority of business men do not advertise, those who do secure results which soon enable them to distance competitors.

Industrial records show that there is a vastly larger percentage of failures among non-advertisers than advertisers.

Not everything that is called advertising is advertising which sells the goods.

Newspaper advertising offering seasonal goods at fair prices at certain definite stores will always move the goods.

Our local retail shops prove this beyond a doubt.

Advertising is not an expense in the way non-advertisers look upon it, but it is paid for from the increased traffic which it creates.

$10 REWARD FOR MOONSHINE STILL

Robert Blackburn, Chief Prohibition Enforcement Officer, announced today that a reward of $10 will be given by the United States government to any person furnishing information leading to the seizure of a moonshine still. Mr. Blackburn explained that this sum will be paid to all persons giving such information, except state and county officers, whose duty it is to suppress violations of liquor laws. Provision for such a reward has been made by the Federal Prohibition Commissioner at Washington.

Payment of such rewards will be made to persons entitled to them, following recommendation to that effect by the prohibition enforcement officer in charge of the district in which the seizure has been made and approval of that recommendation by the Commissioner at Washington.

Mr. Blackburn announced also that he was seeking to have the state of Kentucky authorize a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons charged with violation of the state prohibition law. Mr. Blackburn also announced that Lucien Burnam, Richmond, and L. J. Tartar, Lawrenceburg, will report for duty today as members of the staff of prohibition officers.

KENTUCKY JOCKEY CLUB
INCORPORATED
LATONIA, KY., COURSE

TO TEACH CHILDREN TO SAVE MONEY

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 8—Pupils in Kentucky schools this year are to be taught how to save money. Savings banks are to be established in the city schools throughout the state in connection with the teaching of thrift as required under the 1920 thrift law, if plans of the state Banking Commission are carried out. In a letter to superintendents of City Schools, W. W. Peavy-house, Deputy Banking Commissioner, states that the commission will furnish all information necessary and that the local banks will be glad to cooperate in operation of the bank. His letter follows:

"After consulting the Department of Education, I am writing the superintendents of the various city schools of the state with regard to the establishment of school savings banks in these schools.

"You are no doubt already acquainted with the plan, which has been very popular and proved very successful in many of the eastern cities.

"This it seems is the most practical method of teaching thrift and as the 1920 session of the Kentucky legislature passed an act requiring the teaching of thrift in the public and high schools, it appears that a school savings bank could be operated very nicely in conjunction with this course of study. It could be operated, however, independently of the course of study. The writer has gathered quite a bit of data relative to this plan and if you are interested and would like to establish a school savings bank in your school, I shall be glad to furnish you with information I can relative to same, free of charge. This plan can be operated with very little cost, as a local bank will be glad to assist you in the matter."

COLORED WORKMEN FIGHT ON CHURCH

Two negroes while engaged in the erection of the new colored First Baptist church on Irvine street, suspended work for a few minutes Wednesday afternoon and engaged in a pitched battle to settle an argument.

According to information given by Chief of Police Claude Devore it seems that E. Jones, foreman of the gang, instructed Wm. Miller, a workman, to do a certain piece of work on the building, which he refused to do. This infuriated the foreman, and having a hammer in his hands, struck Miller, severely over the head. Other workmen near the scene of combat, grabbed the men and officer Maupin arrived about this time, and placed the men under arrest.

They were both held over to appear in Judge Smith's court Friday night, under a bond of $100 each, which they both furnished.

It is thought by friends of Miller his injuries will not prove fatal, and he is resting very comfortably at the home of Dave Miller, where he has been boarding since he came here. Both of the negroes are from Louisville and are said to be competent workmen.

Bungalow Under Construction In Rosedale

Contractors Bingham & Stone, who recently purchased six lots in Rosedale from E. T. Wiggins, are erecting several bungalows in that section, and already have had several parties to ask for the refusal as soon as they are completed.

It seems that these contractors have started the ball rolling as other houses in this beautiful addition to the city are under construction and Rosedale promises to make a beautiful suburb to the city.

Annual Paramount Week Drawing Large Crowds

Large crowds are flocking to the local theatres during Annual Paramount Week, which is being held all over the country. Unusually good pictures are being screened and the movie fans are showing the local manager that they appreciate these higher class pictures. Fatty makes a better comedian in these higher class comedies and his work isn't near so strenuous as the rough-and-tumble pictures of former days.

Model Boys Out For Practice

The first call for volunteers for position on the Model Hi eleven brought a dozen huskies on the Normal gridiron. Several members of the last year team reported, along with some new men. The lads were so eager to start that the muddy field was no hold-back to the candidates. They showed the same fighting spirit that they displayed last season. The only new men to report so far are William Terrill and Ralph Gentry. The work out included falling on the ball, running down punts, catching forward passes and running around the field to work up a sweat. The boys are in exceptionally good form for this time of the year.

Practice will be held every afternoon at 2:30 and all that are expecting to enter Model Hi and are going out for football are urged to report at once.
